About People and Things
By C. B. McDowell

WHEN IS HIS BIRTHDAY?
Robert, the 18th-meridianian, is somewhat confused as to the real date of his birthday. He was born in Elba July 4, 1938. He sailed from Scotland to America and traveled westward to the Far East.

Robert crossed the 18th-meridian on Wednesday and when he arrived next morning it was Friday, making him nine entire days. His birthday in Elba was Monday, July 4, but where he is now it was Tuesday, July 5. Or when was it?

JOHN BIRTHDAY SUPPER

Friday, July 5, was the 61st birthday of Mrs. Howard Griffis' daughter, Mrs. Howard Griffis' birthday, so they celebrated the event with a sumptuous dinner for all at the Griffis home on Brantley highway three miles from Elba Saturday.

A large number of relatives and a few invited guests assembled at a barbecue supper. Mr. Griffis' wife, Mrs. Griffis, is Lord is willing, he intends to celebrate his and Mrs. Griffis' 54th wedding anniversary with another supper in September.

MRS. MOORE IMPROVING

Mrs. Reuben Moore of Elba community, who has been undergoing treatment in a local hospital for two weeks is reported to be somewhat improved and her recovery is hopefully expected.

MARRIAGE LICENSE

A marriage license was issued at the Elba post office last week to Robert Nix Ballard, 27, Opp Rt. 3, and Delois Burgean, 23, Opp.

VISITORS

Major and Mrs. Frank D. Perdue of Columbia, S. C. spent the fourth and fifth days visiting their parents, Mr. & Mrs. J. C. Perdue. On their way to Elba they stopped at the residence of Mr. & Mrs. George Perdue at the Elba Perdue home in Madison, Ga. and picked up three of the latter's children, Fay, Thomas and Billie and brought them to Elba for a visit with their grandparents.

Mr. & Mrs. Albert Perdue and son, Mr. & Mrs. Bobby G. St. Louis, Mo. spent Tuesday night in the home of Mr. & Mrs. Diana Perdue. They left Wednesday for Panama City, Fla. on a fishing expedition. Albert is employed as electrical engineer by a large St. Louis firm.

ISITE OLD HOME

Donald Bass, prominent farmer living in Damascus, Ga. recently harvested the first crop of nature last week. It was a stalk of corn with two large ears located in the proper places and an unusual amount of grain coming from the top of the stalk near the tassel. It was a fine specimen of corn and well filled out.

Mr. Bass stated that he had one of the best crops he has ever had and his cotton and peanuts also showed a great deal of promise. He said he has a good stalk of peanuts, something unusual this year when so many complaints are heard of poor stands. He is a member of the Elba community and when the dry weather caused most of the peanut yield to be very short, Mr. Bass harvested about three tons from his field and one-half acre.

WATERMELONS, PEANUTS

Home-grown watermelons are numerous in Elba. Although the late freeze in this area retarded early plantings, growing conditions are favorable and have made rapid growth. There were many melons on the Elba market Saturday that supply outstripped the demand.

DONATE CHAIRS

The First Baptist Mission was the recipient last week of 40 chairs, donated by members of the Elba First Baptist Church. The Elba Mission has recently completed extensive renovations and alterations to its building and the new seats are much appreciated.

The church is one of the most outstanding demonstrations of church growth to be found. The membership has increased steadily and the services are well attended. Rev. Earl Holder is to be congratulated for the effective work he and his membership are accomplishing.

BY PAUL CUNNINGHAM

When most people get around the age of 63, they start thinking of retirement and the time to put on their feet. Mrs. Cunningham, 63, is one of those who are not able to slack up even a little bit as they approach their 63rd birthday. She is still working in the garden and working hard to get up and work late.

While there are lots of elderly people doing this, what makes Mrs. Cunningham stand out is the fact that she does. Many a man would not mention any woman who is not able to keep up with him, but Mrs. Cunningham is cleaning out wells, putting up rails, repairing roofs and toppling trees. In addition to her work in the garden, she has come to the top. Besides the cafe, Mrs. Cunningham cleaned about two feet of mud and accumulated dirt out of the well. She then cleaned out the well with a yard broom similar to the one shown in the picture. She cleaned the bottom and sides of the well in the 36-inch-wide hole. Otis brought her to the top.

Soon after, Mrs. Cunningham, the well, the garden, and water holes in that part of the county started drying up one by one until in their company she cleaned out the well.

Standing about 5 feet 3 inches tall and weighing around 110 pounds, Mary is the wiry type. She is a hard worker and she is a willing partner in every job.

She is the community helper that whatever he can do, she will get Mary to do.

JAMES ENGRAM, 21, of New Brockton, died Saturday in a DeLoach County hospital following a severe, acute, heart attack. He was born and reared in New Brockton.

—23 Years Ago—

In one of the best-played and closely-contested games played on the Elba diamond for a long time, the highly-touted Glenwood All-Stars won an unbroken string of 17 straight victories, went down to defeat before the Elba ball team, and then after a day off, played a second straight game, won it, and took advantage of every opportunity. However, the chief difference between the two teams was the fact that the Glenwood enterprise proved too much for the Elba boys to handle. The All-Stars' credit and gave up only one walk. Bud Conner, Elba first baseman, carried off the baton. The All-Stars had four hits and the Indians had four trips to the plate. His home run smash over the centerfield fence was a just wallop and added to the team's enthusiasm.

Through the Keyhole

BY MRS. ROBERT CANNON

COOL, CALM, and collected, is what we think of Louise Cooper, as she always seems to know exactly what she is doing. And never seems to get in a rush about doing it! Which to our way of thinking is a mighty nice trait.

Louise has just turned over the presidential gavel of the Suwannee Methodist Church to and there was much laughter and gaiety. Included in this affair were Ann Thrower of Dothan, Yvonne Bryan, Jeanie Paul, Suzanne Hayes, Ella Kate Warr and Frank and Herbie Warr.

FLORIDA and the Fourth somehow go together and it seems as though everyone in Alabama will think this year.

Father and husband to this handsome trio is Robert Cooper, our Elba postmaster who was a member of the Suwannee Methodist Church, will return for his second term.

eight. Both of them are musical, and on a recent visit, Susan proudly showed us a fine new piano on which she says she has been practicing.

LITTLE FROGMAN IN BIG POOL—Pre-opening visitors at Ft. Walton Beach, Florida's new Gularium admiring the partially filled tank after an under-water inspection. Windows on the Gularium, which will house an estimated 250 different species of living marine creatures, will open in its 500,000 gallon main tank, is proceeding rapidly, and a July opening seems imminent. The Gularium is situated on US Route 98, just east of Ft. Walton Beach, and right beside the Gulf of Mexico, visible here in the background. In addition to live marine life on exhibit, the attraction will offer a free bathing beach and fishing pier adjoining, and a free shell exhibit and snack bar in the huge Gularium building.

Bethlehem Camp Meeting

The annual Bethlehem Camp meeting starts Thursday, July 7 and continues through Sunday, July 17. This is a special interest to Elba people for several reasons. Rev. W. H. Hughes, Pentecostal, former pastor of the Elba Methodist Church, was instrumental in founding the camp in 1926. It is a quarter of a century old. He was the first president and has served in that capacity ever since. It has grown into one of the outstanding camp meetings of the nation.

Rev. Ben Johnson, an Elba product, son of Mr. & Mrs. Fred Johnson, has been chosen as the Bible Hour guest speaker. The Bible Hour each day, Jesus is in charge of youth activities and Miss Mafe Jean Gandy, a graduate of many Elba schools, is pianist.

Dr. & Mrs. W. M. Ringgold and Mr. & Mrs. Luther Vaughn have cottages on the camp grounds and will spend most of the session there. A number of others intend to be present.

Reports from the county indicate the rain was quite general. However, there are still a few sections remaining in the northwestern part of the county. Other sections report especially new showers which flooded many areas and caused streams to overflow their banks.

Many farmers report that the ground is wetter than it has been for a number of years and are making unusually rapid growth. Even peanut fields with poor stands reported earlier show a marked improvement.
